ANDREINA SEIJAS

Founder & Principal
Night Tank

Dr. Andreina Seijas J. is a Venezuelan researcher and international consultant with more than 15 years of experience in urban development and policy in Latin America, Europe and the United States. Through her doctoral studies at the Harvard Graduate School of Design (2017-2020) she specialized in night-time governance and planning and launched Night Tank, an international consultancy that focuses on this novel field of research and practice. Through her company and as an independent consultant, Andreina works in projects at the intersection of research and practice and is based in Barcelona, Spain. Previously, Andreina worked for international organizations focused on urban strategy and international development such as Gehl, IdenCity, the Housing and Urban Development Division at the Inter-American Development Bank (IDB), and the Americas Society/ Council of the Americas. Before leaving Venezuela, she also worked as Information Manager for the municipality of Chacao in Caracas. From an academic perspective, Andreina has taught urban planning and night-time governance courses at Harvard College and the Harvard Graduate School of Design (Cambridge), the Urban School at Sciences Po (Paris), and IAAC—the Institute for Advanced Architecture of Catalonia (Barcelona). Andreina has a Communications degree from Universidad Católica Andrés Bello, an MSc in Social Policy and Development from the London School of Economics, a Master in Public Administration and Non-Profit management from New York University, and a Doctor of Design (DDes) degree from the Harvard Graduate School of Design. She is also the recipient of several awards, including the Chevening and Fulbright Scholarships, the P.E.O. International Peace Scholarship and the Lawrence H. and Marla G. Curtis Fellowship Fund.

WERONIKA KUNA

Asset Management & Leasing Manager
Globalworth/Hala Koszyki

I am an interdisciplinary and cross-sector professional in the field of real estate, retail, mixed-use and new technologies with international experience. During my career I have moved comfortably between several demanding and dynamic sectors: mainly real estate and new technologies, which gave me the experience in an ever-changing environment, where finding new solutions and developing the business were my main tasks. At work I prefer an agile management style and finding synergy within cross-functional teams. I value open-minded teams with a sense of togetherness, in which the ability to reinvent the business and out of box thinking are key. I have been working in the business development and real estate industry for over 6 years. First on the position of Business Development Manager, currently Leasing Manager for the leading real estate company in the CEE region. I am goal-oriented, strategically thinking and persuasive licensed Real Estate Agent, Property Valuation Expert, Land Investment Specialist and licensed Negotiator (University of Michigan).
